Robin:

We went through the major provisions and think these are some possible consequences:

PSC appt overturned

Add federal funding to highway projects, re-enacting prevailing wage

Wayfair clarifying language to lower taxes is gone

Legislature's authority to hire counsel is back to legislative deference rather than statutory

Automatic intervention into cases is now gone. Brings intervention into the planned parenthood lawsuit into question

AG can now settle and withdraw from lawsuits without leg. Approval

Gov could continually nominate an appointee even if rejected by the senate.

WEDC

Undoes all admin rule changes

Affects military and overseas voting

May cause even more bureaucratic stalling on work requirement and drug testing waiver implementation

Rates/SPAs – Rates could be increased immediately, MA surplus could be spent down to zero quickly, SPA could be written to head us down the path of MA expansion if we ultimately lost the court case

Allows DWD to get rid of worksearch

Speaker Vos Statement on Ellen Nowak being prevented from returning to work

Madison...Speaker Robin Vos (R-Rochester) issued the following statement on Public Service Commission chairwoman, Ellen Nowak, being blocked from returning to work.

"Ellen Nowak has been an outstanding public servant throughout her career. The Public Service Commission is currently dealing with important issues that shouldn't be delayed by the partisan politics Gov. Evers is playing with her appointment.

"She received a bipartisan confirmation vote for her first term in 2013 and should be allowed to continue serving the people of Wisconsin free of political interference."

Dear WI Legislator,

I am writing every WI legislator pleading that you consider amending Section 66.0401 of the WI Statutes regulating wind energy systems. I live in Green County and there is presently an application filed with the PSC to install twenty four of the almost 500' wind turbines in Jefferson township located in Green County.

Green County was settled in the 1800s primarily by Swiss immigrants and at one time had upwards of 300 cheese factories. Green County is comprised of gently rolling hills dotted with farms, it's a lovely area. I am sickened by the idea of our beautiful landscape being forever altered by humongous wind turbines.

I do understand the need for renewable energy. The State of WI has stripped localities of ALL power when it comes to regulating the placement of wind turbines. WI has met it's mandate of 10% renewable energy. How about giving the power back to localities so the people that have to live next to them can regulate them? As it stands now, all the wind companies have to do is find people who will sign leases (by luring them with money) and they can go full steam ahead. In this case, 10 or 11 landowners have agreed to sign leases yet the turbines' negative effects will impact hundreds of town residents who have no say whatsoever.

I would like to further point out at the time PSC was enacted, the turbines were in the neighborhood of 300' tall. They are now almost 500'. It's time to re-evaluate the regulation of wind turbines in WI.

Thank you for your time.

Angela Rogerson
